

Level Two Alpine Race Officials Course

As a request from Snowsport South a Level 2 Alpine Race Officials Course will be held at the Ash Vale Scout Group Building, Wood Street, Ash Vale, Aldershot GU12 5JE on Saturday and Sunday 28/29 November 2015.

This course will be run by Snowsport England and places are also available for anyone outside this region registered as an Official with Snowsport England. (Registration as an official is free.)

Participants must have previously attended a level 1 course and to get the most from this course have some experience carrying out officials roles at ski race events.

The course will be led by Ian Roberts and Richard Dawe, both very experienced GBR TD's on both artificial and alpine events.

The course is a full 2days and covers in detail the following elements on both artificial and alpine surfaces.

- Understanding courses
- Role of the Chief Gate Judge
- Role of the Chief of Race
- Role of the Referee
- Roles of the Start and Finish Referee
- Overview of Race Secretary Role
- Role of the Jury in a Protest
- Jury Course Inspection

There is no exam, no pass or fail, the course will give a very detailed understanding of the roles listed and the knowledge to carry out these roles at a race and once the suitable experience has been gained to move on to be assessed to become a level 2 official.

The cost of this course is subsidised by Snowsport England, but a contribution of £50 is required per participant to cover both days including all refreshments and a buffet lunch.

If you need accommodation, it is encouraged that everyone stays in the same hotel - Premier Inn, 7 Wellington Avenue, Aldershot, GU11 1SQ. tel 0871 5278018. Please could we ask you to make your own booking. This can be booked online at www.premierinn.com.
